life in China."

THE "Friend" for February reached the Bulletin office this morning. A poetical tribute to the memory of the late General John A. Logan heads the front page. A very brief notice of Mr. Richard T. Booth follows. A short editorial, and a few descriptive articles make up an interesting number of that religious journal.

THE Court and two members of the Bar left the city yesterday for Libue, Kausi, for the purpose of holding the Fourth Judicial Circuit at Libue. The party comprised His Honor Associate Justice Bickerton, His Excellency Antene Rosa, At torney General; Hon. S. B. Dols, C. W. Ashford, Hon. J. L. Kanlukou, Marshal or the Kingdom; Mr. W. J. Wilcox, Interpreter, and Captain F.

W. Fehlbeitt. THERE was some loud talking and wrangling in a down-town store this morning. People who chanced to be near, heard of threats of revenge and "don't you call me a thief. I will make you take it back, even if I have to go to court," and other such talk accompanied by malignant gestures.

At the Intermediary Court today. the injunction against the Garstin Bros. from interfering in the conduct of the planting business of Swift, Garstin & Co. Kilanen, was quashed by Justice McCully, Mr. Hatch appeared for the plaintiffs and Mr. W. B. Castle for the defendant, E. A. H. Swift. The injunction was served in December last at the instigation of Mr. Swift.

AN ECLIPSE.

A Partial Eclipse of the Moon will be visible in the United States, Pacific Ocean, and part of Asia on the 8th instant.

SUPREME COURT.

AT CHAMBERS-BEFORE MICULLY, J.

Tuesday, Feb. 1st. Mahiai (w) and Daniel Hanley, her husband, vs. Louisa Mahoe, ejectment. Mr J. M. Poepoe for plaintiff, Mr. S. B. Dole for defendant, Continued for argument from April term, 1886. The case was argued and the decision reserved.

NOT COING AWAY.

Mr. J. T. Dare does not intend leaving the country and going back to California. Mrs. Dare, after placing their children in school on here, and they will probably live at the Hawaiian Hotel, finding it less costly than keeping house. Mr. Dare will continue the practice of his profession as a lawyer, and can be consulted on all legal matters at his office, upstairs in the Spreckels' block, Fort street.

WHAT THE PEOPLE ARE PRAYING FOR. "A little nonsense now and then Is relished by the wisest men."

That the public will never suffer the setting up of opium smoking dens within the city of Honolulu. That Hawaii will not claim suzerainty over more islands than she can properly look after. That all officers appointed to the Kaimiloa be examined as to their proficiency in seamanship and naviration before taking that vessel out of sight of land. That the boundless resources of this country be not squandered away in any more frivotities, when necessaries are still unpaid for.

THE FIRE ALARM. About half past 7 o'clock last evening, the fire alarm sounded, the district indicated being the Fish Market. A rush was made in that direction, and the fire was found to be in the forecastle of the P. C. N. Co.'s schooner Waioli, It was merely an incipient fire, and the damage done was slight, only a little bedding being damaged, and the ceiling charred. A few buckets of water promptly applied, soon extinguished what bid fair to be the nucleus of a big blaze.

Another incipient blaze on Richard street was smothered by three members of the No. 1 Volunteers, whose action displayed presence of mind accompanied by prompt action.

A CHINAMAN OVERBOARD.

A motly throng of excited people on the wharves, near the Pacific attracted the attention of persons the scene, a sickly-looking Chinaman was seen on board the schooner Haleakala, then making ready for lashed to the side of the vessel. lines, Mr. Afong's business manager will be held in the old church buildthe schooner to free the Chinaman of his shackles. The captain, in complying with the request, said that the Chinaman would jump overgliding from the wharf when the Celestial leaped overboard. Hermanson had been on the plantation previously as a shipped hand, saved money and proceeded home in 1885 for the purpose of marrying. Having accomplished his object, he returned last year with a young wife and several of his friends and relations to whom he had recommended Kilauea as a place where they would find congenial employment. This same Hermanson was a valuable servant, and a man on whom Mr. Maese placed implicit reliance. He leaves a young widow patented and operated here. Mr. Maelie is at present at the Lava Flow. We are indebted to Mr. Wm. G. Irwin for the above information.

VALUABLE LAND FOR SALE

Mr. L. J. Levey, auctioneer, advertises valuable land for sale, on Lillina street. The land is in two lots, adjoining each other. The the Coast, will rejoin her husband | first contains an area of a little over eleven acres; the second, one acre. The entire land, with the exception of a small spot of a few rods, has been and may be cultivated. It is good for taro, rice, or almost anything ordinarily grown in this district. It has a water right from the never-failing Kunawai spring of 23 hours every week. Seldon has op-portunity occurred of securing so valuable a block of land for agricultural purposes, so near the city. It is well known as the Reformatory School tare lands. The sale will take place on the 7th of next month.

THE MEANING OF THE FEATURES.

The convex or rounded eve, says a writer in the New York World, denotes strength. Small eyes belong to mechanical, scientific and exact people. The eye most readily brought to a focus serves this class of minds best. Large-eyed persons receive sensations vividly and lose them almost as readily. Further our author says: "I cannot think any person entirely frank and well-principled who is narrow between the eyes. History shows no man of eminence with this peculiarity. Short blunt, full noses belong to artistic and musical people-Farepa, Withelmj, Lucea, Annie Louise Carey, Arthur Sullivan, for example. The musical ear is adapted to receive sounds, standing out from the head, of good size and red from the supply of blood, which increases sensitiveness. The reader may try these signs on people he knows best, remembering that Dr. John Cross, a wise Scotchman, says: 'It rests with physiognomy to detect the imposter; ne cannot prevent an organ from falling by self-accommodating power into color, size and shape most suited to its function.' "

WELCOME IMMIGRANTS, Few Americans in the older, seetions are aware of the extent of Old England's contributions of late years toward the settlement of the western central regions of Uncle Sam's farm. Men who come with education and capital to assist in conquering the wild desert plains and achieve in a short time results, which in the earlier history of our country, would be the work of generations. Stock raising seems to be the great attraction with these men, and wonderful successes, from Montana to Texas, testify to the earnest purpose with which they have entered upon a life so different from that to which they were reared at home.
